Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

DANDIERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance, as follows:

"When I began using Dandierine my hair would not come to my shoulders and now it is away below my hips."

Another from Newark, N. J.

"I have been using Dandierine regularly. When I first started to use it I had very little hair, now I have the most beautiful long and thick hair anyone would want to have."

The drama is a tale of the French revolution of great intensity and beauty. The play will be first brought out in the Northern cities, but friends and admirers of Miss Johnston will look forward to its early presentation in Richmond, where "Audrey" was first played.

Masonic Temple Chosen. The members of Richmond German held a meeting yesterday evening to decide whether the dances for this season, beginning December 14th, should be held in the Jefferson Hotel ballroom, or at Masonic Temple.

The secretary ascertained through postal card query the wishes of each member, and the choice of the majority indicated a preference for the Masonic Temple.

Masonic Temple has been the home of the Richmond German since its completion. Its being chosen this year is said to reflect in some degree the wishes of mothers and chaperones of debutantes, who considered that it was less public than the hotel ballroom could possibly be.

Engagements Announced.

From Marktheidenfeld, Germany, comes the announcement of the engagement of Miss Babetta Blumenthal, to Mr. Edmund E. Skeels, formerly of Richmond, now a resident of Frankfurt-on-the-Main.

His friends here will be interested in noting the fact.

Miss Martin and Her Friends. Mrs. James Lee Shelton asked the buds of this winter to pass the day, and the choice of the majority indicated a preference for the Masonic Temple.

CHURCH ON WHEELS COMES TO-DAY

Sent Out by Catholic Extension Society to Show Value of Missionary Work.

Persons of all denominations are invited to inspect the traveling church, St. Anthony, which is expected to arrive at Byrd Street Station at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The car is a regularly appointed chapel on wheels, and is traversing the country under the auspices of the Catholic Church Extension Society.

It is not the purpose of the society to hold public services, but to show what may be accomplished by the general adoption of such means of carrying on religious work. Father Magri stated last night that none of the local Catholic clergy would meet the car, as the exact time of arrival was not known, and, further, because it was not the desire to limit the benefits of the visit to persons of any particular creed.

The car is constructed much on the order of a Pullman. Inside the car is a chapel, with accommodations for those in charge. Outside the words "Catholic Church Extension Society" and "Chapel Car, St. Anthony," are painted. It is as perfect as any permanently located edifice. There is an altar and all the accessories of a sanctuary.

The car has recently completed a trip through Wisconsin and Minnesota, whence it came East, stopping in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. It comes to Richmond direct from Washington. It will remain here to-day, and will leave to-night for Louisville.

The Rev. A. P. Landry, chaplain in charge, and George C. Hennessey, superintendent of the chapel car service, will receive the visitors. The car is the gift of Ambrose Perry, of New York, and is designated for missionary work in sections of the country where churches are few or widely separated.

THE NEW FIRST LADY

Mrs. Taft Has Had Much Experience in Official Society.

WASHINGTON, November 4.—Mrs. Taft has lived here so long that she is no stranger to any one acquainted with the official set. She has had a wide experience with all of our local customs, surpassing in this respect the present mistress of the White House, whose young family was her chief care when her husband was here as an official prior to his national offices. Mrs. Taft has had the public with her, and tends the wife of a Cabinet officer, as well as all its honors, throughout her Washington residence. Flattering as it had been, it was nothing to the deference paid her in the Philippines as the wife of the civil governor. Later she had to play parts graceful and dignified in equalizing values make Mrs. Taft the most widely and best informed mistress the White House has ever had.

Everybody knows that Mrs. Taft is well educated, has decided opinions on all the leading questions of the day, and that she has desired first or all for her children the best education they could secure, and has given them every incentive not to waste a minute in their school or college life. She is broad, wise, and has a sense of the regular feminine occupations of the period as anybody with whom she is intimate. Of the three children of the famous couple, Robert Alphonso Taft is a junior at Yale; Miss Helen Taft, a senior at Bryn Mawr, and Charles Taft, the youngest of the trio, is an especially lively boy of eleven, who has "done" the Philippines with his parents and otherwise familiarized himself with the good times of other boys who do not live on K Street, where he has spent nearly four happy years.

Mrs. Taft, who has the centre of the social stage to-day, as has her husband the centre of the political arena, is destined to play parts graceful and important. Mrs. Taft has a legion of loyal friends, who can scarcely wait for the 4th of March to see her in the White House.

"It can be truly said that Mrs. Taft is a womanly woman in its broadest acceptance. She has large-souled qualities and a calm, gentle, judicious presence. She has not lived without ambition. Her husband's brilliant successes in music, literature and French, make her a valuable aid to her husband, who is so richly endowed with all the qualities that place him far in advance of men of affairs today."

Mrs. Taft is well poised and dignified, but, at the same time, friendly and easy. Statesmen and diplomats have alike paid homage to her. She does not aim at lavish display in entertaining or in dress.
